

Medical Careers in Action

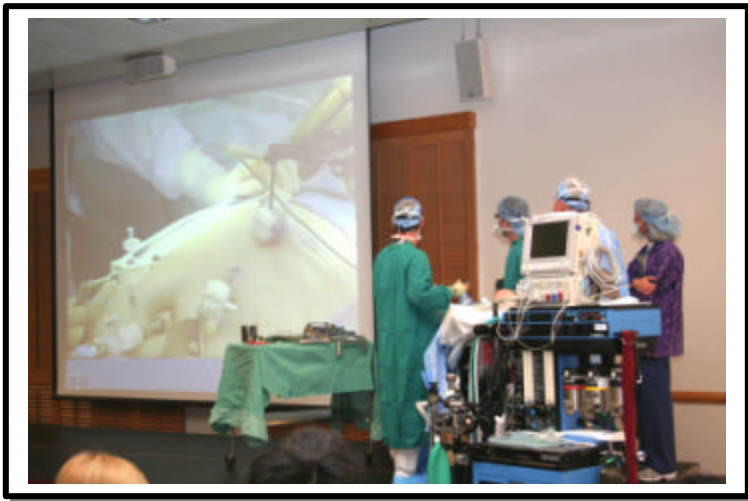

February 28, 2007

Participating Companies:

Saddleback Memorial
Medical Center
Lynch Ambulance

Sponsor:

State Street

Doctors and nurses work together to demonstrate the diagnosis of an emergency patient.

“This was a terrific opportunity for students to preview the medical field and I think it was very motivating for students to see and talk to successful people in the field.”
- Saddleback Valley USD Teacher

Job skills and career information were provided to the students by the medical staff.

Students speak one on one with the ER physician.

Presenters were recognized at the end of the reenactment and answered questions from the students.

Colleges and ROPs provided information on post-secondary education in the medical field.

Teachers said:

“A must see for any high school student considering healthcare as a profession.”

“It was very thorough. Resource material is fabulous! Loved the panel questions/answers and that the kids could talk one-on-one with the professionals.”

Students said:

“If you work hard and don’t give up, it will be worth it in the end. You don’t need to have straight A’s.”

“I learned that there are a lot of different careers within a hospital – all the techs and stuff and how everyone works together. There are a lot more medical professions than you hear about and I would like to investigate all the options now.”

“You can be an EMT after taking a course and it’s a stepping stone to other jobs (like a nursing career).”